COON CREEK WATERSHED DISTRICT Request for Board Action

MEETING DATE: September 11, 2023

AGENDA NUMBER: 9

ITEM: Hearing on 2024 Budget

FISCAL IMPACT: Policy POLICY IMPACT: Budgeted

REQUEST

Hold hearing and adopt 2024 budget as required by M.S. 103D.

PURPOSE & SCOPE OF ITEM

The approval and adoption of the 2024 budget.

The budget represents the set of planned revenues and expenses needed to fund District programs and activities that fulfill the District's legal obligations for managing water and related resources within the Watershed District

BACKGROUND

In March 2023, the Board adopted a budget calendar for the development of the 2024 operating budget. Budget development occurred in three basic phases (detail development, Board review and refinement, public and stakeholder review).

On July 24, the Board approved a rough draft budget for review and comment by the advisory committees and requested feedback from those committees. The District received 10 comments that were addressed at the August 14 and 28th Board meetings.

On August 28 the Board approved a Draft budget for public review and hearing.

COORDINATION

Advisory Committees: Both advisory committees were briefed and consulted monthly during the budget development phase in April, May, and June.

Citizen Advisory Committee (CAC): Presented and discussed rough draft and draft budget with the Citizen Advisory Committee. July 12, and August 9.

Technical Advisory Committee (TAC): Presented and discussed rough draft and draft budget with the Citizen Advisory Committee. July 13, and August 10.

FACTS

- Adoption of an operating budget is required by statute to be adopted by the Board by September 15 of each year (M.S. 103B & M.S. 103D)
- A public hearing is required prior to Board adoption of the operating budget (M.S. 103B & M.S. 103D)
- Participation by the public and major stakeholders is encouraged (MR 8410)
- The 2024 budget development process commenced in March, and some element of the budget has been before the Board at each of the 11 Board meetings since that time.
- Comments from the Advisory Committees were presented and discussed at the August 14 meeting
- The Board has reviewed and commented on the 2024 budget in its entirety on four separate occasions. All approved changes have been included.

ISSUES/CONCERNS

- 1. Public Notice: The draft budget was noticed on the District web site August 25 and September 1, in the Anoka County Union Herald and the Blaine/Spring Lake Park/Fridley Life
- 2. Hearing requirements: Minnesota Statutes 103B & 103D requires the Board to convene a public hearing to allow the public to comment on the proposed 2024 budget. A potential outline for the hearing would be:
 - a. Call to order
 - b. Review Statutory Purpose of the District and the Requirement for the development and adoption of annual budget
 - c. Review proposed 2024 budget
 - d. Receive public comment
 - e. Close public comment
 - f. Discuss public comment
 - g. Close hearing
- 3. Adoption of the Budget: Adoption of the budget is a separate act of the Board, must be done before September 15 and can not be done until the Board has closed a public hearing on the budget.
- 4. Property Tax Levy: Adoption of the budget is not a certification of property taxes payable in 2024. Certification of taxes payable in 2024 is not required and by tradition does not occur until the first Board meeting in December.

However, once the budget is adopted and the proposed levy amount is reported to Anoka County under the "Truth in Taxation" requirements, the Board is prohibited from certifying a levy larger than the levy amount reported to Anoka County. The Board may, however, decrease the amount reported. Any decreases in the levy should be preceded by a review and revisions in expenditures to ensure the revised budget is balanced.

5. Comments: The District has received no comments on the draft budget.

COON CREEK WATERSHED DISTRICT Request for Board Action

MEETING DATE: September 11, 2023

AGENDA NUMBER: 10

ITEM: Election of Officers

POLICY IMPACT: Policy

BACKGROUND

Elections are typically held at the first meeting in June to accommodate any new appointees. However, interim elections were last held in January after the departure of Michael Kreun to the Minnesota Legislature. Elections for President were also held at the July 10 meeting following Matt Herbst unexpected resignation from the Board of Managers. At that meeting the Board elected Jim Hafner as Board President, leaving the position of vice president vacant.

ACTION REQUESTED

Hold Elections for all required offices.

COORDINATION

Current Officers

Office	Incumbent
President	Jim Haffner
Vice President	Vacant
Treasurer	Mary Campbell
Secretary	Patrick Parker

PERTINENT FACTS

Minnesota Statutes 103D.315 Subd. Officers. ...the managers must elect different managers as president, secretary and treasurer.

District Policy 1.4: Duties and Powers of the Board of Managers (adopted 7/23/90 and revised 5/10/93) stipulates that the Board of Managers shall have four officers:

- 1. President
- 2. Vice-President
- 3. Secretary
- 4. Treasurer

ISSUES/CONCERNS/RISKS

Vice-President Position: Vice president position is currently vacant. We are required to have four officers in the identified offices.

OPTIONS FOR ACTIONS

The Vice president position chairs the meeting in the President's absence and is available for special tasks. It is helpful to the Board and staff if a member knowledgeable to governance, water resources issues and the Board holds the position, but is not a requirement. Staff sees three available options available to the Board:

- 1. Hold elections on all four positions.
- 2. Elect a vice president and any subsequent offices that may open.
- 3. Elect one of the two Board members who are currently not holding an office to the position of vice president.

CONCLUSION

- 1. The unexpected resignations have disrupted the annual process.
- 2. Options 1 is the most thorough and complete.
- 3. Option 2 accounts for experience with the District's issues and Board operation
- 4. Option 3 is the most convenient and expedient.

RECOMMENDATION

Hold elections for all four positions.

COON CREEK WATERSHED DISTRICT Request for Board Action

MEETING DATE: September 11, 2023

AGENDA NUMBER: 11

ITEM: Draft District Bylaws

AGENDA: Discussion

ACTION REQUESTED

Review and discuss draft District Bylaws

PURPOSE & SCOPE OF ITEM

The purpose of this item is to initiate the development, review and adoption of bylaws to guide the District in the administration of its business practices, as well as meet a statutory requirement.

BACKGROUND

M.S. 103D.315 Subd 11 states that "the managers shall adopt bylaws for administration of the business affairs of the watershed district.

Although the District at present does not have a compiled document entitled "bylaws" it has followed statutory business procedure and when additional guidance or procedures have been needed, has developed separate policy and procedures linked to specific statutes.

Bylaws are the rules of an organization, typically established by the board during the process of starting an organization. They typically govern the internal management of an organization. Bylaws often cover such topics as:

- Location and name of the organization
- Location of meetings and special meetings of the organization
- Date and place of the annual meeting
- Election and organization officers and their duties
- Board of directors' membership, meetings, compensation, selection and removal of board members
- Appointment of committees
- Information about corporate records

ISSUES/CONCERNS

1. Statutory Requirements

The applicable statute provides that the watershed district adopt bylaws for its internal business administration. The Legislature has also made clear the "bylaws" are not considered "rules" that are subject to the more formal regulatory rule requirements and adoption under Minnesota Statutes section 103D.341.

2. Compile Guidance Procedure in one Document

It is reasonable to compile in one document entitled Bylaws the internal business guidance procedures for the District.

CONCLUSIONS

- 1. The Board should review and comment on the attached draft bylaws with the intent to adopt bylaws in accordance with MS 103D.315
- 2. Timeline for adoption? Let's discuss if it's necessary for a CAC review.

RECOMMENDATION

1. The Board at least vote to receive the Draft Bylaw

The manager must abstain from participating in any discussion, offering any motion, or voting on any matter in which the conflict of interest exists. "Conflict of interest" means a material financial interest of the Board manager, a family member or a close associate; a relationship that limits the manager's ability to be objective; or that creates the appearance of impropriety. At the request of the President or by any Board manager in a matter in which a manager has a conflict of interest, a roll call vote shall be taken and recorded in the minutes, as well as the abstention of the manager with the conflict of interest.

MEETING DATE: September 11, 2023

AGENDA NUMBER: 12

ITEM: TH 65 Elected Officials Briefing

AGENDA: Discussion

ACTION REQUESTED

Receive report.

PURPOSE & SCOPE OF ITEM

TH 65 Reconstruction project through Blaine

BACKGROUND

At the August 28 Board meeting the Board was briefed in the TH 65 project.

- Design is at about 30%
- There have been some changes in the works such as to the right-of-way, roundabouts, bridges, wetlands and floodplain.
- Alternative designs are being considered.
- There is a briefing scheduled for elected officials

The Board discussed who would be attending the Public Official Briefing. Board Members Hafner and Lind indicated they would be attending.

ISSUES/CONCERNS

Lind's Observations:

- a) The timeline is getting delayed for a variety of reasons, including MnDOT taking over on the final design/execution end. As citizens were told this project would move forward quicker than it's taking, getting it going asap is a priority.
- b) MnDOT will be making a lot of the final decisions that determine the timelines.
- c) The designs as they stand attempted to consider/plan for future expansion. e.g., the bridges are set to accommodate likely future expansion of the number of lanes, drainage pond sizes are maximized to try to compensate for the increased impervious surface impacts when this happens.
- d) From my perspective, consideration of the water impacts seem a bit lacking based on what was discussed at this meeting. For example, the expansion of the number of lanes will eliminate green space in the middle and the area underneath it was mentioned will effectively become a storm sewer. It is not clear whether it's been considered how this may impact the ability to properly move/treat runoff so that it doesn't cause flooding or other negative impacts on nearby wetlands and groundwater, or what mitigation approaches are planned.

IMPLICATIONS FOR RESOURCE/ORGANIZATION

- Project will involve crossing or work in the headwaters of 4 public ditches (17, 39, 41, 41-5).
- Wetland impacts are largely exempt from avoidance but must be mitigated. Probably through a combination of road bank and other mitigation.
- Project must meet volume, rate and treatment standards once design is under permit review.

QUESTIONS

Fact Sheet for the Final Rule: Amendments to the Revised Definition of "Waters of the United States"

August 2023

Overview

On August 29, 2023, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and Department of the Army (the agencies) announced a final rule amending the 2023 definition of "waters of the United States." The amendments conform with the U.S. Supreme Court's May 25, 2023, decision in the case of Sackett v. Environmental Protection Agency. While EPA's and Army's 2023 rule defining "waters of the United States" was not directly before the Supreme Court, the decision in Sackett made clear that certain aspects of the 2023 rule are invalid. Therefore, the agencies have amended key components of the regulatory text to conform it to the Supreme Court decision. The final rule provides clarity for protecting our nation's waters consistent with the Supreme Court's decision while advancing infrastructure projects, economic opportunities, and agricultural activities.

Changes to the "Waters of the United States" Categories and Definitions 2

The agencies' amendments change the parts of the 2023 definition of "waters of the United States" that are invalid under the Sackett decision. For example, the rule removes the significant nexus test from consideration when identifying tributaries and other waters as federally protected. It also revises the adjacency test when identifying federally jurisdictional wetlands, clarifies that interstate wetlands do not fall within the interstate waters category, and clarifies the types of features that can be considered under the "additional waters" category.

Changes that the agencies have made to the January 2023 Rule categories:

Jurisdictional Category	Key Changes to the January 2023 Rule Regulation Text	Regulatory Text Paragraph
Traditional Navigable Waters	No changes	(a)(1)
Territorial Seas	No changes	(a)(1)
Interstate Waters	Removing interstate wetlands from the text of the interstate waters provision	(a)(1)
Impoundments	No changes	(a)(2)
Tributaries	Removing the significant nexus standard	(a)(3)
Adjacent Wetlands	Removing the significant nexus standard	(a)(4)
Additional Waters	Removing the significant nexus standard; removing wetlands and streams from the text of the provision	(a)(5)

¹ The "Revised Definition of 'Waters of the United States'" rule published in the Federal Register on January 18, 2023.

² These tables are provided for informational purposes; the rule establishes the requirements defining "waters of the United States."

Changes that the agencies have made to the January 2023 Rule definitions:

Definition	Key Changes to the January 2023 Rule Regulation Text	Regulatory Text Paragraph
Wetlands	No changes	(c)(1)
Adjacent	Revised definition to mean "having a continuous surface connection."	(c)(2)
High tide line	No changes	(c)(3)
Ordinary high water mark	No changes	(c)(4)
Tidal waters	No changes	(c)(5)
Significantly affect	Deleted definition	(c)(6)

No Changes to the Exclusions from "Waters of the United States"

The amendments to the January 2023 Rule do not change the eight exclusions from the definition of "waters of the United States" that provide clarity, consistency, and certainty. The exclusions are:

- Prior converted cropland, adopting USDA's definition and generally excluding wetlands that were converted to cropland prior to December 23, 1985.
- Waste treatment systems, including treatment ponds or lagoons that are designed to meet the requirements of the Clean Water Act.
- Ditches (including roadside ditches), excavated wholly in and draining only dry land, and that do not carry a relatively permanent flow of water.
- Artificially irrigated areas, that would revert to dry land if the irrigation ceased.
- Artificial lakes or ponds, created by excavating or diking dry land that are used exclusively for such purposes as stock watering, irrigation, settling basins, or rice growing.
- Artificial reflecting pools or swimming pools, and other small ornamental bodies of water created by excavating or diking dry land.
- Waterfilled depressions, created in dry land incidental to construction activity and pits excavated in dry land for the purpose of obtaining fill, sand, or gravel unless and until the construction operation is abandoned and the resulting body of water meets the definition of "waters of the United States."
- Swales and erosional features (e.g., gullies, small washes), that are characterized by low volume, infrequent, or short duration flow.

Additionally, the agencies' amended definition of "waters of the United States" does not affect the longstanding activity-based permitting exemptions provided to the agricultural community by the Clean Water Act.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIR

Greetings to Metro Area League Members!

First, I would like to thank everyone who attended our 2023 Annual Meeting on May 20. We accomplished much that day, including a decision to undertake a study of watershed districts in the metro area.

We were also treated to a fabulous presentation on the LWV Upper Mississippi River Region (UMMR) Interleague Organization (ILO) by Gretchen Sabel... its Communication Chair.

Thanks to Zoom we were able to hear from Gretchen while she was on a road trip visiting family.

Watershed District Study

The CMAL Board has begun to outline the watershed district study. We have identified a leadership team of Wes Volkenant, Peg DuBord and Carol Barclay, as well as a list of individuals attending the Annual Meeting who volunteered to work on the study.

As the study gets underway, there will be many opportunities for others to volunteer to work on it, including interviewing watershed district officials and/or staff. Watch for more information on an organizational meeting where we will get started!

I am looking forward to this coming year, especially the watershed district study. I thank you for your confidence in my leadership by electing me to a new two-year term. Here is a quote from Gretchen Sabel on May 20: "We all know our zip code, our area code and all should know our watershed." That is exactly what we will be doing!

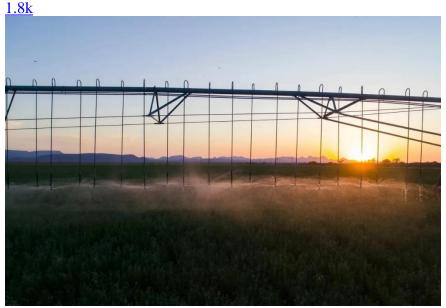

Warmly,

Karen

Five Takeaways From Our Investigation Into America's Groundwater Crisis

Christopher Flavelle and Mira Rojanasakul August 29, 2023·4 min read

Agriculture is heavily reliant on groundwater in many parts of the country.

A New York Times investigation has found that America is depleting its invaluable reserves of groundwater at a dangerous rate.

The practice of overpumping water from vast aquifers is already having consequences nationwide. The majority of U.S. drinking-water systems rely on groundwater, as does farming, one of the nation's most important industries.

Despite being essential to American life, the health of the country's aquifers is hard to gauge. The Times spent months collecting data on tens of thousands of wells to conduct one of the most comprehensive examinations of groundwater depletion nationwide.

Here are five takeaways.

Aquifer water levels are falling nationwide. The danger is worse and more widespread than many people realize.

Some 45% of the wells the Times examined showed a statistically significant decline in water levels since 1980. Four in 10 sites reached record-low water levels during the past decade, and last year was the worst yet.

INFORMATIONAL ITEM # 15

From Yahoo News - The Morning newsletter from the New York Times

"From an objective standpoint, this is a crisis," said Warigia Bowman, a law professor and water expert at the University of Tulsa. "There will be parts of the U.S. that run out of drinking water."

The declines threaten the long-term survival of communities that depend on groundwater and lack alternatives.

We know this because we built a database of more than 80,000 wells nationwide.

The available data on America's aquifers is patchy and dispersed among many different federal, state and local agencies.

So the Times reached out to dozens of those agencies to collect millions of groundwater-level measurements for tens of thousands of sites, some of which have been tracked for a century. The analysis of that data provided a foundation for one of the most thorough examinations to date of the groundwater crisis in the United States.

Overpumping is a threat to America's status as a food superpower.

Pulling water out of the ground made it possible for America to become an agricultural superpower and one of the world's largest exporters of corn, soybean, sorghum and cotton. Groundwater depletion is threatening that status.

The change is already happening in parts of Kansas, where 2.6 million acres of land no longer have enough groundwater to support large-scale agriculture. The western part of the state has seen some of the worst declines yet in groundwater levels. Corn yields have plummeted to levels last seen in the 1960s, erasing decades of gains.

Other states risk following a similar path.

It's not just a problem in the West or for farmers. It's a tap water crisis, too.

Aquifers are in decline far from the arid West. Arkansas, which produces half the nation's rice, is pumping groundwater from its main agricultural aquifer more than twice as fast as nature can replace it. In some places, the aquifer has fallen to less than 10% of its capacity.

In Maryland, almost three-quarters of monitoring wells have seen water levels drop since 1980, some by more than 100 feet. Charles County, which includes fast-growing suburbs of Washington, relies on groundwater, but within a decade, that groundwater will no longer meet its needs.

As groundwater gets pumped up, the emptied-out space can collapse under the weight of the rock and soil above it. Once that happens, the aquifer loses the ability to hold water, permanently diminishing groundwater storage.

The Times visited one neighborhood in Utah that had to be permanently abandoned after a fissure split open the ground due to overpumping.

INFORMATIONAL ITEM # 15

From Yahoo News - The Morning newsletter from the New York Times

Weak regulations allowed the overuse. Now, climate change is leading to even more pumping.

Weak state regulations, combined with a lack of federal oversight and no comprehensive national data, has made it possible for farms, cities and companies to draw down aquifers, the Times found.

Climate change is adding to that pressure.

Rising temperatures often means reduced snowpack, which in turn means less water flowing through rivers — pushing farmers and cities to lean more heavily on groundwater. But those same rising temperatures also mean plants and lawns require more water.

The result could be called a climate trap that threatens to deprive huge areas of the United States of groundwater supplies. The aquifers will only become more important as surface water becomes harder to get.

High mortgage rates aren't stalling Twin Cities area home building

On Thursday, Freddie Mac's weekly survey showed the 30-year fixed-rate mortgage averaged 7.18%.

Higher mortgage rates haven't put a chill on home building this summer.

Builders in the Twin Cities area pulled 571 single-family permits during August, 66% more than last year at this time, according to Housing First Minnesota, a trade group that represents metro area builders.

"New construction continues to attract eager buyers due to lack of supply in the existing market paired with the ability to offer opportunities other sectors of the market can't," said John Quinlivan, 2023 board chair of Housing First Minnesota.

After a slow start to the year, housing construction in the Twin Cities this summer is outpacing last year as builders try to capitalize on a steep decline in for-sale listings of previously owned homes.

Listings for previously owned homes were down 24% during July, but listings for newly built homes were up 7%, according to the latest data available from the Minneapolis Area Realtors association.

And while higher mortgage rates and a shortage of listings are stifling home sales across the board, new home sales are down by a much smaller margin, likely a reflection of greater supply.

Pending sales of existing homes were down 26% during July, while pending sales of new home were down only 8%, according to a rolling 12-month average.

"Interest rates are having impacts across all areas of the housing market," Quinlivan said.

Mortgage rates are now hovering at around 7%, the highest in a couple decades but near historic averages. But after several incremental increases through the past month, mortgage rates slipped slightly going into the Labor Day holiday.

On Thursday, Freddie Mac's weekly survey showed the 30-year fixed-rate mortgage (FRM) averaged 7.18%. That was down from 7.23% during the prior week. A year ago, the average was 5.66%,

"Despite continued high rates, low inventory is keeping house prices steady," Sam Khater, Freddie Mac's chief economist, said in a statement. "Recent volatility makes it difficult to forecast where rates will go next, but we should have a better gauge in September as the Federal Reserve determines their next steps regarding interest rate hikes."

Apartment construction continues to decline with the number of permitted units for multi-family housing — mostly market-rate rentals — down 13%.

The largest project permitted last month was a 148-unit apartment building in Cambridge from BJ Baas Builders. That project made Cambridge the city with the most total units for the month. But with nearly 1,000 units in the pipeline, Minneapolis will have the most new housing so far this year.

Despite the gains in single-family and multi-family construction last month, 6,652 units have earned permits so far this year. That's nearly half as many as last year at the same time.
